DETAILED ACTION

Entry of Amendment

1. Applicant's amendment, filed on December 20, 2002, as paper No. 9, is acknowledged. Claims 33-49 are currently pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

-Claims 33-49 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claims 33 and 49, it is unclear as to whether the axis running through the center first, second and third apertures are collinear or parallel.

35 it is unclear as to with what regard are the beams being steered to an angle up to 90 degrees.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

-Claims 33-37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Lederman et al. (US 4,180,792)

Lederman teaches a method of using an ultrasonic depositing system , comprising the following method steps:

- Emitting energy from a first and second aperture, with center of first aperture displaced a first distance from the second aperture.

- Emitting energy from a third aperture, center displaced a second distance from center of second aperture.

- Second distance different from first distance, third aperture size is different from at least first and second aperture size.

- Ultrasound emission to produce a reduced grating lobe beam.

- Energy emitted from two of three apertures (Figures 2 and 8).

- Independently controlling phases and magnitude, or amplitude of ultrasound energy, as claimed in 34 37. (Figure 8, column 5, lines 40-45, and column 6, lines 65-67, and column 7, lines 1-10)

- Steering of beam angle of up to 90 degrees, as claimed in 35. (Column 3, lines 25-30)

- Ability to steer the beams to at least two focal positions, as claimed in 36.

- (Figures 3-6 and column 3, lines 15-25)

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

-Claims 38, 39, and 41-48 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lederman.

Lederman teaches all the claims except that it fails to teach independently controlling frequency aspects of the ultrasonic energy emitted, producing a reduced grating lobe . However, it is well known in the art of ultrasonic imaging to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made that signal control includes frequency control to optimize imaging. Lederman also fails to teach MR imaging in conjunction with ultrasonic energy placement. However, it is well known in the medical art that dual-modal imaging is done to enhance diagnosis of disease. Furthermore, Lederman fails to set an ultrasound energy range. However, it would have been an obvious matter of design choice to one having ordinary skill in the art for one to set Lederman's device to such an imaging frequency range such that imaging quality could be optimized.

Allowable Subject Matter

5. Claim 40 would be allowable if rewritten to overcome the rejection(s) under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, set forth in this Office action and to include all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 33-49 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
